GSA Priority Supply List for Afghanistan

GSA Strategic Support for U.S. Forces in Afghanistan

Local Sourcing in Central Asia and South Caucasus

The U.S. General Services Administration supplies military and civilian agencies around the globe with common-use dining supplies, cleaning products, office supplies, safety products, tools and hardware, and construction materials. In support of U.S. Central Command Policy Letter #40 – “Central Asian States Procurement Initiative” – GSA Global Supply™ now sources many of these products closer to Afghanistan, in the Central Asia and South Caucasus nations of Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan and Georgia.

In conjunction with the Department of Defense’s “Afghan First” procurement policy, GSA Global Supply’s Central Asia and South Caucasus local sourcing benefits U.S. Forces in Afghanistan several ways:

- Sourcing products closer to Afghanistan significantly reduces shipping time and cost.
- Local sourcing strengthens U.S. economic cooperation with the nations providing access to the critical supply routes of the Northern Distribution Network (NDN).
- Business skills and regional trade relationships developed in these countries resulting from local purchase are enduring assets that encourage the long-term stability of the region.

By purchasing the products in this catalog through GSA, you will be supporting our nation’s strategic objectives for the region, complying with the Department of Defense’s Central Asian procurement policies, and taking advantage of an effective and innovative supply-chain solution for Afghanistan.

Ordering GSA Central Asia and South Caucasus Sourced Products

The 100 products GSA has sourced in Central Asia and the South Caucasus are featured in the following pages, and we have made ordering them as simple as possible. We continue to expand our offering from Central Asia and the South Caucasus and will update this catalog frequently.

Delivery to U.S. Forces and Contractors in Afghanistan

The products GSA Global Supply sources in Central Asia and the South Caucasus can be delivered to U.S. Forces, government personnel, coalition partners, and support contractors only in Afghanistan.

Product Quality and Price

Through its sourcing partner, Theodor Wille Intertrade (TWI), GSA identifies products made or sold by companies in the region that are functionally equivalent to the standard products we supply from the United States. Negotiated prices for locally sourced products are generally comparable to those from the United States, and savings in shipping (and time) result in lower total cost.

National Stock Numbers

Each of the products GSA Global Supply sources in Central Asia and the South Caucasus is assigned a new National Stock Number (NSN). The “Afghanistan NSN” assigned to the locally sourced product is linked to the “Standard NSN” for CONUS-sourced products in GSA’s systems. A customer in Afghanistan can use the Afghanistan NSNs shown in this catalog. If a customer in Afghanistan orders a Standard NSN for which GSA has a locally sourced equivalent, GSA will convert the order to the Afghanistan NSN and have it shipped from the supplier in Central Asia or the South Caucasus. For ease of reference, all Standard NSNs are listed in the product descriptions below.

Units of Issue

Some of the locally sourced products have different packaging and units of issue than the Standard NSN equivalents. When GSA converts an order from the Standard NSN sourced in the United States to the Afghanistan NSN equivalent, our systems automatically convert the unit quantity to be delivered, so the customer receives the desired amount of material.

Minimum Order Quantity

Each of the locally sourced products has a minimum order quantity requirement that varies by NSN, as shown in this catalog. Any orders for quantities below these thresholds will cause the order to be filled from GSA’s standard CONUS supply chain.

Order Methods

MILSTRIP Requisitions

Most orders to GSA from Afghanistan are submitted via MILSTRIP requisitions. Therefore, GSA Global Supply's local sourcing program is designed to optimize this order method and process MILSTRIP requisitions without any special input from the customer. MILSTRIP requisitions are accepted through the DLA Transaction Services system (formerly DAAS) or via DD Form 1348 submitted to one of GSA's liaison officers deployed to Afghanistan (see contact information below).

When ordering, you can use either the Afghanistan NSN or the Standard NSN in the requisition; just be sure to check the appropriate units of issue and minimum order quantity requirements.

Online

Because the locally sourced products are available for delivery only to Afghanistan, the Afghanistan NSNs do not appear on the GSA Global Supply website, www.GSAGlobalsupply.gsa.gov, or on GSA Advantage![®], www.gsaadvantage.gov. However, the equivalent Standard NSNs can be ordered at these websites; when processing orders for delivery to Afghanistan, if GSA has a locally sourced equivalent product, our systems will convert the order to the Afghanistan NSNs.

Payment

Currently, billing and payment via Department of Defense Activity Address Code (DoDAAC) is the only option.
